Hofstra University's ASCD Student Chapter is comprised of both undergraduate and graduate students who work together to form the ASCD Hofstra community.

We offer seminars on issues related to pre-service and in-service teachers that add to the Hofstra education and members professional development. These seminars include such topics as how to teach a demo lesson, effective use of technology in the classroom, SMART Board workshops, effective teaching strategies and APPR. Members and non-members are welcome to all of our events! Refreshments are always served.

We also do community service activities including fundraising to help build, rebuild, and maintain schools!

For more information, feel free to message us! We are happy for help you in any way
Many homes and schools around New York were flooded around this time last year due to Hurricane Sandy. Posters were lost, carpets were ruined, and furniture was damaged, but spirits were not broken. Communities came together to rebuild and help each other out.

We know that the cost of buying reading books for an elementary school can be a huge expense, and when school libraries were damaged due to uncontrollable situations organizations such as us thought of ways to help out.

Coming together with the community The Hofstra University ASCD chapter was able to collect over 1,000 books and donated them to Long Beach School District. These books will not only ease child’s worries but also make the classroom a little more welcoming.

Nicole Facchini, our past president, believes that books are our most precious resource in the school, and was glad Hofstra ASCD was also able to, presented a check for $1,800 to an East Rockaway elementary school to replace books destroyed by Hurricane Sandy.
Workshops presented Spring 2013

Going from Old School to New School
Christopher Loiodice

HNET conference
Monica Zenyuh

Everybook is a social Studies Book
Andrea S. Libresco

Some of our members who were able to attend the National ASCD conference held in Chicago shared what was learned in the IGNITE session.

Student presenters had five minutes to give a Power-Point presentation on an education-related topic, with only 15 seconds allotted to each slide. This kept participants attentive and the energy level high.

Save The Date

Friday, October 4, 2013
LIASCD Fall Conference
Anticipated topics include: PARCC Assessments and Teacher & Principal Evaluations

October 15, 2013
SPED scholarship applications due

October 22, 2013
Hofstra ASCD Meeting
Topic: To be Determined
Time: 7:00 PM
Location: Hagedorn, Room 180

October 24-25 2013
NYS CEC Conference
Theme: Education Improvement for all
Register at http://www.ascd.org/memberships.aspx

http://www.ascd.org/memberships.aspx
Top left: ASCD Scholastic Book Fair
Top Right: Vice President: Bonnie Chen, President: Mary Finnegan present a check to the Rhame Ave Elementary School in East Rockaway, New York to help with the damage from Hurricane Sandy.
Bottom Left: ASCD members level books to donate to the Long Beach School District.
Bottom Right: ASCD members model our new 4GB Flashdrive bracelets with our motto of Teach-Learn-Inspire displayed on them.